rity who will then consult the adjoining neighbours to advise them of your proposals. If your neighbour raises any concerns, the local authority will be required to determine the likely impact and whether it can go ahead.

NMA means Non Material Amendment: amendments to the proposals which were originally approved. The local planning authority will determine whether amendments are "material" or not.

TD means telecommunications development.

RM means Reserved Matters. Where outline permission has been granted, you may, within three years of the outline approval, make an application for the outstanding reserved matters, i.e. the information excluded from the initial outline planning application. This will typically include information about the layout, access, scale and appearance of the development.
